POPE LESS DEPRESSED

Friday Was to Him a Comparatively Quiet Day.

THANKS FOR PRAYER

In Answer to a Question Dr. Lapponi Says the Vatican Patient May Not Be Better, but He Is No Worse.

Rome, July 18.—"I cannot say the pope is better, but he is no worse." In these words Dr. Lapponi summed up for the Associated Press Friday evening the pontiff's condition at the end of the second week of his illness, in all the varying periods of which the pontiff has scarcely had a quieter day than Friday, with the result that the official bulletin declares him to be a little less depressed. In the morning after a night during which stimulants and nursing restored him to a fairly good condition the pope complained of soreness, due to the many days he had passed in bed. To relieve this and to humor him the patient was allowed to sit in his arm chair for a short time, with apparent good effect. The celebration of a mass in honor of St. Leo and the pope's conversation with Mgr. Piffer were the only other incidents which relieved the tedium of the sick chamber.

From Friday night's examination of the pope it appears that the liquid in the pleura remains at about the same level, which is marked with dermographic pencil on the pontiff's side. The physicians think the liquid amounts to about 1200 grains. Considering the condition of the pope the doctors do not believe it possible that his body can absorb it, as might a young, well nourished organism.

After the visit of the physicians, the pope received Cardinal Rampolla, who remained in the sick room only a few minutes. He again gave the pontiff a full report of the prayers offered in his behalf all over the world. His holiness, raising both hands, said: "I bless all those who pray to God for me."

In Vatican circles there is gossiping over the great reception given by Mgr. Ajuti at Lisbon to celebrate his elevation to the cardinalate and also over the solemnity with which Cardinal Agliardi Friday took possession of his new office of vice chancellor of the church. The Associated Press correspondent, however, learns that the pope himself in his last interview with Cardinal Agliardi urged the performance of this ceremony. In sharp contrast with these ceremonies are the continuous preparations at the Vatican for the death of the pontiff. A huge spit twelve feet long which has been used for roasting food for the conclaves since the time of Gregory XVI, was brought from an old store room and will be employed to roast quarters of beef for the isolated cardinals while they are deliberating in the conclave over the election of Pope Leo's successor.

Pope Has No Cancer.

Rome, July 18.—Drs. Lapponi and Mazzoni absolutely deny the statement published in the United States that Pope Leo is suffering from cancer, and ridicule it as an ignorant invention. They say they are sure that Dr. Rossi takes the same view.

Quieter Sleep.

Rome, July 18, 2:15 a. m.—The pope is now reported to be in a somewhat quieter sleep than he had Friday night, although his breathing is perhaps not so easy.

CHOATE NOTIFIED.

Informed of The Assurances of Russia Regarding Ports.

London, July 18.—Ambassador Choate has been advised by Secretary Hay of the character of the assurances given to China by Russia respecting the opening of ports in Manchuria. It is believed that the ambassador communicated the information to the foreign office at a conference lasting half an hour, which he held on Thursday with Foreign Secretary Lansdowne and that Mr. Choate cabled the result to Washington. But the ambassador declined to make public any information respecting the representations made or the views of Lord Lansdowne. The foreign office also declined to comment on the matter.

Veterans of Santiago Campaign.

Detroit, Mich., July 18.—Veterans of the Santiago campaign attended a banquet Friday night in the Masonic temple. John M. Thurston was the speaker of the evening, responding to the toast "Our Country." General Joseph Wheeler responded to the toast "The Cavalry Division."

Strike at an End.

New York, July 18.—The signing of the arbitration plan of the builders' agreement on the wage scale for another year by the Bricklayers' union, it is said, insures the return to work of 75,000 men and the end of the building trades tie up. The fact that fifteen of the twenty-two local unions of the Brotherhood of Carpenters and Joiners have accepted the arbitration agreement is taken as further assurance that the strike will end.

POSITION AGREED ON.

What Italy Will Do When Pope Has Passed Away.

CABINET CONFERRED.

It Decided Not to Participate in Any Manifestations of Mourning, While Allowing Full Liberty to Everybody.

Rome, July 18.—The pope continues in the same enfeebled state, but there is no indication of an approaching crisis. His condition appears to have lapsed into one of indefinite suspense, with the ever present danger of a fatal turn. Yet there is no immediate fear of such change being near. During Saturday morning the pontiff remained comparatively quiet, getting some sleep and seeing no one except the doctors and immediate attendants. For three days the official bulletins have practically been unchanged, showing the patient's condition to be almost stationary. An Italian proverb says: "When a patient does not get worse he improves very much," but with the pope, after the last two weeks' experience, everybody has renounced making any predictions. Undoubtedly symptoms of amelioration exist. While on Thursday morning, when the pleuratic liquid regathered, his respiration reached 36, Saturday, when the liquid was lowering, it fell to 28. In fact, it is known that Drs. Lapponi and Mazzoni discussed the question whether to announce amelioration in Saturday morning's bulletin, but abandoned the idea, so as not to raise excessive optimism.

The shutters of the pope's bedroom window were almost closed, the window open and curtains drawn back. It is reported that steps will be taken to install an electric fan in the room.

Cabinet ministers held several meetings Saturday to discuss the attitude of the government on the death of the pope, and it has been decided if the Vatican notifies the Italian government of his death, as it did in the case of the other distinguished prelates, Italy will not officially participate in any manifestations of mourning, but will limit itself to maintaining public order and insuring full liberty to the conclave prescribed by law. In arriving at such a decision the ministers declared they had been guided by a wish to protect the dignity of the state and by no lack of respect for the aged pontiff, toward whom there has been much chivalrous demonstration of sympathy, from the king, who postponed his journey to Paris on account of the pope's health, and from the whole people, who are participating in the universal feeling of regret at the pontiff's illness, thus forgetting the traditional struggle between church and state.

CARMELITE MADONNA.

Owing to Pope's Illness There Was No Procession This Year.

Rome, July 18.—One of the most picturesque ceremonies of this season in Rome is the procession of the Carmelite Madonna, which occurs two days after the fete day of Madonna. It was much curtailed because of Pope Leo's condition. Usually the long procession of women, girls, priests and monks winds through the tortuous streets of Trastevere, a popular district, carrying an image of the Madonna and chanting hymns in her praise, while flour and flowers are strewn along the route, the multitude looking on enchanted. This year, however, the image of the Madonna was taken early and privately to church, without any display, but long and more fervent prayers were offered to God for the preservation of the aged pontiff.

BRYAN, TEXAS, JULY 19, 1908

AND THIS IN BOSTON!

Prof. R. O. Allen Writes the Eagle from Harvard—Some Yankee Views.

Prof. R. O. Allen, who is at Harvard University for the summer, writes the Eagle under date of July 14, enclosing some newspaper clippings bearing on two important topics of national interest and setting forth some Yankee views that are to say the least, surprising. Prof Allen says:

Editors Eagle: Glancing over today's Boston Evening Transcript I find two rather remarkable statements. The first is the closing paragraph of an editorial on lynching, and reads as follows:

"In western Massachusetts the other day, in a small town, it was only the nerve of a deputy sheriff that prevented a lynching, though the offender had done nothing more serious than wound another man by hitting him with a beer glass in a barroom fracas. Last night in Cambridge [the seat of Harvard and a suburb of Boston] the police had a hard fight against a mob that shouted, 'Lynch him,' after a prisoner who at the worst was a wife beater. When the taste for lynching is once formed it rapidly ceases to be discriminating."

The other statement I regard as even more surprising. It was made yesterday by one of the speakers at an Emerson memorial meeting. Referring to Emerson as a representative of the Puritan spirit, in the best sense of the term, the speaker said:

"It sometimes seems as if people thought there was no Puritanism south of Mason and Dixon's line. This is a mistake. John C. Calhoun was a typical Puritan in his manly life and real downright sincerity and integrity. The civil war has been called a war between the Puritan and the Cavalier. In a sense this may be true, but in reality, there was just as much, if not more of the Puritan type on the other side and among the generals on the other side as on our own. Grant, Sheridan and Sherman could never be mistaken for typical Puritans, but I think Robert E. Lee and Stonewall Jackson would."

How is that for something refreshing? After all, it seems that truth will out, as well as murder, even up here in New England.

R. O. Allen.

CAPT. T. D. SANDERS.

Passing of Another Brave Ex-Confederate Soldier.

Capt. Thomas Daniel Sanders, whose death was briefly mentioned in the Eagle yesterday morning, was 65 years 4 months and 11 days old, and a native of South Carolina. In infancy he was taken by his parents, J. D. and Elizabeth Sanders, to Pickens county, Alabama, where he was raised. He came to Burleson county, Texas, in 1892, and in 1890 was married to Miss Lizzie Moseley, daughter of Gus Moseley of Burleson county. He served the Confederacy as a member of Terry's Texas Rangers, and coming home the last year of the war, raised a company and was detailed for duty on the Rio Grande border. His wife survives him, but all of his seven children are dead. He leaves one brother, Mr. W. Mack Sanders of Steele's Store, and one sister, Mrs. Ellen Stone of Birmingham, Ala.

Capt. Sanders was a farmer and had lived in Brazos county since 1897. He was a man of intelligence and genial characteristics. Quiet and unassuming, he won the lasting regard of many friends, and comrades who learned with sorrow of his death. He had been ill for several weeks and his death was no surprise to any one.

Funeral services were held yesterday afternoon at the home of Mr. O. L. Miller in this city, and attended by members of Camp J. B. Robertson, U. C. V. and many friends. Interment followed at Boonville cemetery.

FIENDISH CRIME.

Young Woman Knocked in the Head and Fatally Injured.

Morkevideo, Minn., July 18.—Helen Olsen, aged twenty, the pretty daughter of a Mr. Olsen, was assaulted by a man supposedly a negro, and will die. Helen was alone in her father's house at Watson during the latter's absence at Minneapolis, where he is ill. She had Miss Julia Jorgenson with her Friday night. Early Saturday the girls were awakened by a man, who demanded their valuables. Miss Olsen said: "If I give you all the money in the house will you go?" The man ordered her to get the money. He then dragged her down stairs, where he struck her on the forehead with an axe or hatchet. Miss Jorgenson had been ordered to remain in bed and not to move, but on hearing the noise down stairs she stepped out of a window to the roof. The intruder fired at her as he fled. Her screams aroused the neighbors and a search was at once begun for the fugitive. At 10 o'clock Mr. Woodworth rang the bells of the town, calling a posse of citizens together. Sheriff Hartley immediately summoned every man present as a deputy, saying he held every man present responsible for the negro. The crowd immediately took up the trail.

ONE ESCAPED.

Man Convicted of Murdering His Brother Gains His Liberty.

Cody, Wyo., July 18.—Great excitement exists throughout Big Horn basin over the escape of James Gorman, the convicted murderer of his brother, Thomas Gorman. On Wednesday evening Sheriff Fenton received information that a party of determined citizens from Shell and Paint Rock, in this county, were coming down to lynch Gorman and Walters, another convicted murderer.

The sheriff handcuffed the prisoners and two armed deputies secretly removed them to a canyon about two miles from town. When nearly to their destination Gorman, who is a powerful man, suddenly wrenched off his handcuffs and broke for the surrounding shrubbery. One of the guards started in pursuit and fired several shots at the fugitive, but he escaped into the darkness.

Walters, the other prisoner, made no attempt to escape. Information was instantly sent to the town and a number of mounted men started in pursuit, declaring their intention of lynching Gorman if recaptured.

RUSSIA'S REASON.

Does Not Relish Outside Interference With Internal Affairs.

St. Petersburg, July 18.—Foreign office authorities authorize the Associated Press correspondent to say that the reason for Russia's refusal to accept the Kishineff petition was the unalterable objection of the Russian government to outside interference in internal affairs of the empire, and that even had the petition been acceptable as a diplomatic document Russia would have regarded the publication of the text before transmission as unusual. The foreign office says it is unwilling to regard the incident as closed and adds that Russia continues to cherish American friendship.

HISTORIC HOSTELRY.

Tavern Where Washington and Lafayette Stopped Destroyed by Fire.

New York, July 18.—After standing as a hostelry about 140 years, the Lodi hotel at Kearney, N. J., has been destroyed by fire. Generals Washington and Lafayette are counted among the historical personages who put up at the old tavern. They passed a night there shortly before the battle of Monmouth. Early in its history its local men made it a safe resort for the sporting element and it was a noted place for all kinds of sports. In more recent years the Lodi hotel was a gathering place for the English and Scotch sportsmen interested in quouting and dog racing. It was the place where the latter sport began in this country. Another sporting class which made the old hotel prominent were the trap shooters of the latter half of the last century.

SHOT HIS WIFE.

Drunken Husband Then Turned Weapon on Himself, Dying at Once.

Duluth, Minn., July 18.—Sam Svensk, proprietor of a restaurant on Lake avenue, came home drunk on Saturday morning and becoming vexed at his wife for upbraiding him pulled out a 38-calibre revolver and fired, inflicting a mortal wound in her head. He then turned the weapon on himself, dying instantly. Mrs. Svensk's physicians expressed but little hopes of her survival.

Negro Becomes Insane.

Kallispel, Mont., July 18.—Ed Burritt, a negro carpenter, became insane from reading reports of lynching of negroes. Heran rushed wildly through the streets, shouting that a mob was after him. He was taken to the asylum.

Artist Whistler Dead.

London, July 18.—James Abbott McNeill Whistler, the American artist, died at his residence, 74 Cheyne Walk, Chelsea, at the age of sixty-nine years. His death came unexpectedly, although for some time he had been seriously ill. The papers publish elaborate obituary notices.

Chief Justice Passes Away.

Atlanta, Ga., July 18.—Justice Samuel Lumpkin of the supreme court of Georgia, died at Washington, Ga., Friday night.

No Lives Were Lost.

Joliet, Ill., July 18.—The report of the destruction of Gardner, Ill., in a storm Friday night proves untrue. While the storm was the worst in the history of the town, no lives were lost and no one injured. Country districts report considerable damage by rain and winds.

DROPPED TO DEATH.

Man and Woman Die on the Scaffold at South McAlester.

South McAlester, I. T., July 18.—Chief Deputy Marshal Genuing dropped a handkerchief with trembling hand, just before 7 o'clock Friday morning, which was a signal to Deputy Marshal Donahat of Spiro to pull the lever which let Dora Wright and Charles Barrett fall to their death. The neck of each was dislocated and the man died in twelve minutes and the woman in thirteen. The woman gave two spasmodic convulsions, but the death of both was otherwise apparently painless.

After they had been cut down their faces were examined and there was no trace of the work of pain. Except for the dislocation of their necks one could not have told but what they had died peacefully in their beds.

The woman was convicted of whipping a child seven years old, at Wilburton, to death. Charles Barrett paid the penalty for the murder of John Hennesey, an aged man, on the Choctaw railroad at Calvin.

Wound Proved Fatal.

South McAlester, I. T., July 18.—C. W. Cole, who was shot through the lung at Hartsborne last Friday in an affray in which Mrs. Hart was killed, died at Hartsborne. He had been in the hospital here till Thursday night, when he insisted on going home in violation of the instructions of the physicians. He rode on a cot in a baggage car, and the car was derailed at mine No. 9, shaking him up so that a hemorrhage resulted in his death.

Railroad Chartered.

Guthrie, Okla., July 18.—The Chickasaw and Northeastern railway was chartered here. The new road is projected from Chickasaw I. T., through the Chickasaw, Seminole and Creek nations, traversing the southern portion of Oklahoma to Holdenville, I. T., a distance of 125 miles. Capital stock five million dollars. The incorporators are all Oklahoma capitalists.

Face Crushed.

Oklahoma City, Okla., July 18.—Joseph Mendon, a farmer residing near McLeod, was brought here and placed in the hospital. He is disfigured for life. While attempting to hold a horse which became frightened at a train the animal threw him down and crushed his face with its hoofs.

BENCH WARRANT.

One Has Been Issued For Arrest of George H. Beavers.

New York, July 18.—A bench warrant was issued by Judge Thomas in the United States circuit court, Brooklyn, for the arrest of George W. Beavers, on an indictment found by the federal grand jury, which charges him with accepting a bribe of $840. It is understood that payments to Beavers were traced back to the purchase by the government of the Brandt Dean Cash Registering Machine company. The postoffice inspectors found that Beavers had a large account in Nassau Trust company, and is said to have discovered that checks deposited there had been given by ex-Congress Diggs. The warrant has not yet been served and it was rumored that Mr. Beavers could not be found. It was stated that he would have until Monday to present himself and that an arrangement had been made with his attorneys to enter a plea for him at that time.

AFTER BEAVERS.

Officers Are Looking For Former Chief of the Salaries Division.

Washington, July 18.—The issuance of a bench warrant for the arrest of George W. Beavers, formerly chief of the division of salaries and allowances in the postoffice department, is the culmination of an investigation into various branches of his department that has been in progress at intervals since his sudden resignation from office last spring. One of the first results was the cancellation of 3046 promotions that had been passed on by him to take effect at postoffices throughout the country during the present fiscal year. The case on which the present action of the grand jury is based, it is said, is a more recent development. It is said that it is within only the past two or three days that the evidence was secured that furnished a basis for action by the federal grand jury. Chief Postoffice Inspector Cochran and Inspector Walter S. Mayer of Chicago, who worked up the case against August W. Machen, the former head of the free delivery service have figured conspicuously in the obtaining of the evidence.

The authorities are now searching for Mr. Beavers to place him under arrest. His present whereabouts are unknown.

BRYAN SPOKE.

He Severely Excoriated Grover Cleveland and His Supporters.

Chicago, July 18.—William Jennings Bryan addressed several thousand enthusiastic Democrats at the Chicago Democratic picnic at Brand's park, in the outskirts of the city. He was received with cheers and the waving of hats when he stepped to the center of the platform after an introductory speech by Mayor Harrison and was frequently interrupted by applause. His oration was toned with special reference to the possible candidacy of Grover Cleveland in 1904, and he and his supporters came in for some severe exhortation at the hands of the speaker. Mr. Bryan, before the picnic, was escorted by the Chicago Democracy Marching club to the Auditorium, where a reception was tendered all the speakers of the day. After a luncheon and a parade through the streets, fifty trolley cars, especially provided by the Democrats, went to the picnic grounds. Other speakers who followed Mr. Bryan upon the platform were Mayor Reed of Kansas City, Jeremiah B. Sullivan of Iowa, B. J. Campau of Michigan and T. E. Ryan of Wisconsin. Charles A. Walsh of Iowa spoke by proxy, his address being read in his absence by City Clerk Lapiff.

FIRST STEP TAKEN.

Building of Tonti Storage Reservoir Will Soon Commence.

Phoenix, Ariz., July 18.—The first important step in the movement to secure the building of the Tonti storage reservoir under the provisions of Hanchbrough-Newlands irrigation act are completed. This step consisted in executing liens to Salt river valley water users on every acre of land irrigated. Each acre up to the limit of 160 represents one share of stock in the association, which, in turn, contracts to pay back to the government within ten years the construction cost of the reservoir. Subscription books closed Friday night. The total acreage signed is 195,000, with some contracts to be received by mail. It is proposed to develop electric power at the dam, thus furnishing means for pumping water to lands not irrigated by the Tonti reservoir.

LARGE FIRE LOSS.

City of Augurn, N. Y., Was Visited by a Destructive Blaze.

Auburn, N. Y., July 18.—Fire which started in a large frame building in Garden street caused losses estimated at $150,000, partially insured. The burned structures included the high school, erected a few years ago at a cost of $75,000; the Auburn Soap and Chemical company, E. W. Webb's planing mill, Francis Dobson's stair factory, Charles Hollingshead's carpenter shop, A. Young's mohair factory, apartment house of Mrs. Emma Singleton, brick block occupied by Joseph Nichols, dealer in confectionery; Auburn Extract company and Reddon's house. Hickok Bros.' wood yard and J. Brinkhoff's carpet cleaning establishment also were damaged.

THREE MEETINGS.

Each Division of the Methodists Convened in Separate Chambers.

Detroit, Mich., July 18.—Despite the leaden skies which greeted them after a night of hard rain, more than 1000 enthusiastic Epworth Leaguers were present at the morning watch meeting in Central M. E. church, which began at 6:30 o'clock Saturday. Dr. Joseph F. Berry, general secretary of the League, led the meeting. The delegates gathered at the churches later for conferences. The Methodist Episcopal church met in Auditorium Epworth, with Bishop Joyce as chairman of the conference; Methodist Episcopal church, South, in Central M. E. church, with Bishop Hoss presiding, and the Methodist church of Canada in the opera house, with Rev. A. C. Crews as chairman.

FACT VS. FICTION.

Captain Dillare's Magazine Story Classes Him a Coward.

New York, July 18.—A sea captain, Axel Simonson, has begun suit for $10,000 damages against a publishing company of this city for alleged libel growing out of a magazine story. The yarn, as published, described a shipwreck in which the captain was the first to reach shore in the breeches buoy, leaving his crew and a woman passenger to care for themselves. Simonson says he is captain of a ship of the same name; that the boat ran ashore not long ago and that he was not the first to get to land. He declares the story, although it figures as fiction, has set him down as a coward and damaged his reputation as a reliable seafaring man.

Eppinger Indicted.

San Francisco, July 18.—The grand jury returned an indictment against Jacob Eppinger of the insolvent grain firm of Eppinger & Co., which went into insolvency some time ago with liabilities in the neighborhood of $1,000,000 and assets but a fraction of that sum. Jacob Eppinger is indicted on account, it is averred, of the alleged obtaining of money under false pretenses in hypothecating worthless warehouse receipts with certain banks. His bond was fixed at $1000 and was immediately forthcoming.

Tried to Kill Him.

New York, July 18.—While Enrico Ganata, who, the police say, killed his wife by stabbing her with a chisel, was being examined in the coroner's office in the Bronx, Ernero Caste, the dead woman's brother, came in to apply for a burial permit. When he saw Ganata he sprang at him and tried to kill him. It took four men to restrain Caste.

Sittings Suspended.

Madrid, July 18.—Chamber and senate have suspended sittings on account of ministerial crisis.
